Daly City Winds Up Fifth War Loan

War Finance Chairman Walter J. Lehigh Thanks Workers, Public For Cooperation

Reaching a total of $187,518.75 in War Bond sales by Saturday, July 22, Daly City was well beyond its quota of $175,000 for the Fifth War Loan drive, in this, the final week of the big drive, according to Walter J. Lehigh, war finance chairman for Daly City. However, he pointed out that this community, like the rest of northern California, lags in the sale of E bonds. Individuals, for whom the E bonds are particularly designed, are urged to make every effort to push up the E bond total before July 31. To date only $81,467.75 of the grand total has been in E bonds.

Chairman Lehigh thanked his committee workers and the citizens of Daly City for the splendid cooperation which made possible this city's fine record in the drive. The results show that many local people bought "more than before" as their tribute to the fighting men who are bringing victory at such great cost to this nation.

At the War Bond booth in the Daly City theatre, last week and this week, the following girls, Brownies, Girl Scouts Sell War Bonds this, are Girl Scouts and Brownies of the Daly City-Colma Council area. They have done an excellent job in the final phase of the Fifth War Loan drive and Chairman Lehigh expressed his appreciation to the "junior saleswomen" who have helped keep interest in the campaign stimulated right up to the closing date.

Mrs. Elsie Hesselein, public relations co-chairman for the council, announces that the following girls served, last week: Eleanor and Christine Quickert, Alberta Smith, Beth Ann Calvin, Carleen Leach, Girl Scout Troop No. 1; Arleen Pool, Diane Hale, Barbara Delucchi, Brownie Pack No. 7; Alice Schultheis, Dolores Dillaboy, Barbara Marsh, Joan Leepin, Joan Vittori, Girl Scout Troop No. 2; Dixiene Schultheis, Beverly Heagney, Barbara Hesselein, Betty Lou Marsh, Brownie Pack No. 8; Janet Petersen, Lois Rentsch, Girl Scout Troop No. 4.

Girls who served during the current week will be announced in next week's issue of The Record.

Daly City Man Loses Life In Port Chicago

A Daly City man lost his life in the Port Chicago disaster, worst explosion of World War II, which Monday night, July 17, took hundreds of lives, injured many, and did millions of dollars worth of damage to Navy and private property. He was Richard David Roberson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberson, 598 Crocker avenue, and a graduate of Jefferson Union high school.

An able-bodied seaman who had spent the past two years in the Merchant Marine, Roberson was on the SS E. A. Bryan, one of the two munitions ships which exploded at Port Costa, causing unbelievable havoc at the Navy's ammunition dump and the nearby community of Port Chicago, last Monday night.

The Jefferson Elementary district hearing will be at 8 p. m., Thursday, August 3, in the administration building, 344 Santa Barbara avenue. Total budget requirement is $135,000. This breaks down into the following items: administration, $5,600; instruction, $97,700; operation of school plant, What'll We Do On A Summer Day?

More enthusiastic War Bond "salesmen" than the Brownies and Girl Scouts of Daly City would be hard to find. Here is a picture of the group on hand one evening last week at the Daly City theatre War Bond booth.

Standing is Art Kloth, new manager of the Daly City theatre, who cooperated with Chairman Walter Lehigh on the entire drive. The two Brownies kneeling in front are Barbara Hesselein and Beverly Heagney. Inside the booth are Girl Scouts Lois Rentsch, Barbara Marsh, Janet Petersen, and Beth Ann Calvin.

By the way, if you haven't bought as many bonds as you can afford the girls will be glad to sell you one (or a dozen) any evening this week at the theatre.

Appoint James Welsh, Edward Beecher To Positions On Local Police Department

Personnel of the Daly City Police department has been augmented by the appointment of two local men to temporary positions on the force. They are James C. Welsh, 375 Evergreen avenue, and Edward Beecher, 679 San Diego avenue. Both are long-time residents of the community, where they attended local schools. Both are married men and have families.

Welsh is captain of Company No. 4, Daly City Fire department, and formerly operated the Alert Van and Storage company here.

The two new officers are already on duty.

During the past several days

local police reports included the following items in addition to the usual run of miscellaneous law-and-order problems requiring attention:

Officer George Hopman helped Assistant Fire Chief A. J. Bodien put out a fire in the vacant lot next to 251A Winchester street, July 19, at 12:25 p. m.

Officers Henry Sundermann jr., August Benassini and Welsh responded when a fire alarm came in from Box 15, July 20, 8:22 p. m. The grill at Central Creamery, 6283 Mission street, blazed up. The fire was extinguished by Companies 1, 2, 4, and 6, Daly City (Continued on Page 7)

What to do during vacation is no problem for youngsters living in the vicinity of Lincoln park, Brunswick and Acton streets, where a fine summer program of supervised activities is under way. More than 60 elementary school age children make the park their headquarters for "lots of fun," daily.

Mrs. Betty Otton, 175 Acton street, who appears in the photos above with the children, is in charge of the recreation center. In addition to a regular schedule of games and handicrafts, special features like picnics and pet shows highlight the kiddies' weeks.

Hours are 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Fridays, and 10 a. m. to noon, Saturday, at Lincoln park. Mrs. Otton praised the youngsters whom she said are quite well-behaved considering the large group she has to deal with each day.

The program at Lincoln park will continue through the summer vacation period. Arrangements were made for its sponsorship with the city council by Mrs. Anne Eason and Mrs. Maizie Boyle of the Daly City Recreation committee.

"The Lodger" Now At Daly City

20th Century-Fox's picturization of Mrs. Marie Belloc Lowndes' best-selling study of Jack the Ripper, "The Lodger," opens tonight at the Daly City theatre. It can be unequivocally—if quivering—stated that it is the tensest, most suspenseful shocker that ever wracked the wrought-up nerves of a movie audience. From its beginning in the shadowy fog of London's Whitechapel district, it is an adventure in movie-going that will remain indelibly in your memory.

Merle Oberon, George Sanders, and Laird Cregar are starred in the film, with a brilliant cast including Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Sara Allgood, Aubrey Mather, Queenie Leonard, Doris Lloyd, David Clyde and Helena Pickard.

John Brahm, who directed the film has created a mood that is born in terror and reaches a wild crescendo of thrills in the startling climax. Robert Bassler, the producer, contributes an outstanding example of craftsmanship. Barre Lyndon's screen play skillfully captures the full force and imagination of Mrs. Lowndes' novel.

London, at the time of Jack the Ripper, was a city saturated in fear. The Ripper had killed several women in such a manner as to leave no doubt that all the crimes were the work of one individual.

Into the Burton home, at the height of the panic, comes "The Lodger" to apply for a room. His character is strange; his manner mysterious; his habits peculiar.

Niece of the Burtons is lovely Merle Oberon, in the role of the reigning queen of the London musical comedy stage. She is repelled, yet fascinated, by "The Lodger." Inevitably, Jack the Ripper marks her for his own. Scotland Yard is helpless, the people are terror-stricken—but the girl is unaware of the fate that hangs over her head. The spectator, however, clearly sees the inevitable attack, and the suspense becomes almost unbearable as the film, step by step, reaches its excitement-packed climax.

Complementing the atmosphere of the story is romance and Miss Oberon in several entrancing musical numbers.

Issue E-2, R-2 Gasoline Coupons

E-2 and R-2 non-highway gasoline coupons are now being issued to farmers and other non-highway users and will be valid concurrently with the E-1 and R-1 coupons now in circulation, the Office of Price Administration announced, Monday.

In informing gasoline dealers and distributors that the new coupons are out, and good for bulk purchases of gasoline, OPA described them as follows:

The new R-2 (five-gallon) coupons are printed in blue ink. (The old R-1's are printed in purple ink.)

The E-2 (one-gallon) coupons are printed in black ink, instead of the orange ink used for the E-1's.

Both E-2's and R-2's bear the notation "non-highway." In addition, the E-2 coupon will carry the legend: "Not good for obtaining gasoline to propel registered vehicle." Although the longer legend does not appear on the R-2 coupon, because of printing difficulties, both coupons are valid only for bulk purchases and neither may be exchanged for gasoline delivered into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle.

E-2's and R-2's, like E-1's and R-1's, are all serially-numbered and issued in strips.

Besides the serially-numbered coupons that now make up the bulk of non-highway rations, a few old-type unnumbered E's and R's are still in circulation, OPA added.

ed this morning, July 27, for Roberson at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church. Friends and relatives were invited to attend.

He was only 26 and had just received recommendation for officers' training a few days before the disaster claimed his life. He had made a number of trips to the South Pacific since joining the Merchant Marine.

Roberson grew up in Daly City, where his parents have made their home for more than twenty years.

NOW AT DALY CITY THEATRE

Better take someone with you when you go to see "The Lodger," 20th Century-Fox's suspenseful shocker based on Mrs. Marie Belloc Lowndes' best-selling study of Jack the Ripper which opens tonight at the Daly City theatre. The thriller stars Merle Oberon, George Sanders and Laird Cregar with Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Sara Allgood and Aubrey Mather in featured roles.

Take Final Step In Delivery Of Shasta Power

The final step in the delivery of Shasta Dam power to the Pacific Gas and Electric company was taken today when the government's Shasta substation-Oroville transmission line was placed in operation.

Built by the government the line has been leased to the company for $75,000 a year. It will be maintained by the company and operated as part of its transmission system.

Shasta power is delivered to the company at its Shasta substation, located 25 miles below the dam and is metered and paid for at that point.

"It was necessary," said James B. Black, president of the company, "to build the Oroville line in order to provide sufficient transmission facilities for both Shasta and Pit river power. We were prepared to construct the line out of our own funds but the Department of the Interior decided to build it with government money and lease it to the company."

"As proposed by us and built by the government, the line is really a tie-line, 75 miles in length, between our Pit river and Feather river transmission systems, one of which runs down the west side and the other down the east side of the Sacramento valley. It represents an investment of approximately $1,250,000.

"To obtain the best economies in operation the Oroville line will be used to transmit power from both the Pit river and the Shasta plants. For about six months out of the year it will be used exclusively for Pit river power.

Court St. Mary Celebrates Birthday

Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, celebrated its fourteenth birthday, Thursday evening, July 20, at Masonic hall with a special program, which opened with the singing of "Happy Birthday to Court St. Mary" under the direction of Grand Regent Mrs. Helen Rode.

The members were served refreshments from beautifully decorated tables which employed the court's colors, purple and gold. The many good things to eat were delicious satellites for a huge birthday cake, decorated in purple and gold. Mrs. Lorraine Wall and Mrs. Marie Kemnitz were chairmen and received a vote of thanks from the membership for the lovely decorations, flowers, and refreshments.

Entertainment, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Katherine McDermott, featured "kid" games and prizes. Members dressed as children for the occasion.

Mrs. Rode mentioned in recounting the court's history that the name for the organization was suggested, fourteen years ago, by Mrs. Charlotte Ford.

The pleasant evening came to a close with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The court will hold its next regular meeting, Thursday, August 3, 8 p. m. at Masonic hall, 17 Hillcrest drive.

OPA Reassures Tenants On Rent

Tenants need have no fear of a general rise in rents as a result of amendments to the Price Control Act passed by the last Congress. On the other hand, OPA will do everything in its power to expedite such relief to landlords as was granted under the legislation.

This was the statement, Saturday, of Ivan D. Carson, National Rent Administrator of OPA, as he prepared to leave San Francisco after a conference with Pacific Coast rent directors, auditors and enforcement officers.

"Congress never contemplated a general upswing in rental rates nor did it enact any of the dozens of proposed amendments which might have imperilled rent control," Carson said.

"However, the Congress and OPA recognized that previous regulations did not provide for relief in certain individual cases, where because of peculiar circumstances, rents are lower than the prevailing rental range.

"It was to care for these particular classes of cases that the amendment to the rent law was enacted, and to provide adjustments where the landlord is experiencing substantial hardship because of an increase in taxes or operating cost. Authority also has been granted to reduce rents which because of peculiar circumstances are higher than rents for comparable accommodations."

Increase Gas Allowance For Furloughs

A member of the armed services on furlough or leave for a period of three days or more is entitled, effective July 25, 1944, to one gallon of gasoline for each day of his leave or furlough up to a maximum of 30 gallons, George Moncharsh, San Francisco district director for the Office of Price Administration announced, last week.

The new national ruling replaces a previous policy of granting a flat five gallons to every member of the armed services on leave, furlough, or pass for more than 3 days.

"It has become evident," Moncharsh said, "that the old policy was unfair to armed forces personnel serving out of the country and returning after a long absence. The new ruling is designed to eliminate this unfairness and give the serviceman with an extended furlough more gasoline."

Furlough rations will now range between a minimum of three gallons for a three day furlough to a maximum of 30 gallons for 30 days.

Details of the new furlough gasoline policy were worked out by OPA in conjunction with representatives of the Army and the Navy. At the suggestion of the Army and Navy, no ration will be granted for passes (to Army personnel) or liberties (to Navy personnel) or for leaves or furloughs of less than three days.

A CHANGE FOR THE "BITTER"

Lately, the Japs have been changing top military commanders as fast as a woman changes her mind—which IS quite fast.

The purpose, of course, is to make somebody the scapegoat for the defeats they are suffering. The trouble is, the supply of scapegoats has run out, and now Tojo has had to take a turn.

Sort of a change for the "bitter" we would call it.

CANTALOUPE: $10 EACH

The American housewife doesn't have a "corner" on food problems, as she may be inclined to think at times, in trying to fulfill her duties as a first-class "Kitchen Commander."

A young woman recently returned from England told a reporter of the San Francisco News that the English women are not only faced with the danger of robot bombs, but with food prices which include such items as cantaloupes at $10 each.

Of course, most people can survive without cantaloupe for each meal, but that price is indicative of the costs and shortages which confront the British people. We have long been more or less aware of food problems in England, but this example makes our own difficulties seem just what they are—infinite indeed.

In our country prices have risen, to be sure, but the combination of mass production and large-scale distribution operating through multi-unit retail outlets have played a major role both before and since Pearl Harbor in holding down American living costs.

And as for shortages—well, we Americans, on the whole, are actually better fed now than ever before—and we have always been the best fed people on the globe.

It all boils down to this: As far as food is concerned, America has hardly been touched by the war.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Sunday, July 30, marks the second anniversary of the creation of the Women's Reserve of the United States Navy by act of Congress. Since the establishment of the WAVES (as the "Women Appointed for Voluntary Emergency Service" are popularly known), more than 70,000 of America's finest young women have volunteered for service with the Navy.

These women have earned the respect of the Navy and of the public. They perform 250 different types of jobs. They serve as hospital corpsmen, yeomen, telegraphers, photographers instructors in the Link Trainers, synthetic gunnery instructors, parachute riggers, aviation machinist's mates, air control tower operators, storekeepers, switchboard operators, cartographers, I. B. M. operators, mail clerks, messengers, librarians, lithographers, in communications, and in nearly every other type of Naval shore job.

The Navy may be justly proud of its women and of the contribution they have made to the successful expansion of the world's greatest sea force.

Rear Admiral Ernest J. King pretty well summed it up when he said of the Waves: "You who are members of the Women's Reserve have won the respect of the Naval service by your acceptance of military requirements, readiness for responsibility and already valuable contribution to the work of winning the war. You will share the gratitude of a nation when victory is ours."

Resident San Francisco To Receive New Telephone Directories Beginning July 31

A new grey-covered telephone directory was scheduled to be delivered in residential San Francisco during the period July 31 to August 4, inclusive, it was announced today by Lyle M. Brown, division manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. Downtown areas were to receive the new books in a distribution beginning July 25 and ending July 29.

Brown stated that the people who deliver the directories have been instructed to collect all copies of the present green-bound issue, as an aid to paper salvage and to insure removal from circulation. He suggested that persons who will be out, or who do not wish to be disturbed, can assist by placing the discarded telephone books where they can be picked up by the delivery force.

"Everyone can lend greatly appreciated aid in handling the heavy volume of telephone calls here, by referring to the new telephone directory before calling, and asking information only for numbers not listed," Brown said.

Crocker Chapter No. 382, Eastern Star, To Honor Past Matrons, Past Patrons

Crocker Chapter No. 382, O. E. S., will honor past matrons and past patrons of the organization at a program, Monday evening, August 7, starting at 8 o'clock in Masonic temple, 17 Hillcrest drive. Theme for the evening is "Tahiti, the Rainbow Isle." Committee includes Mrs. Jean Strachan, Mrs. Mae Jeans, Mrs. Agnes Chestnut, Mrs. Fernanda Sordelli, Mrs. Ruby Sandstrom, and Mrs. Katherine Meyer.

The Monday evening, August 21, program will be a stated meeting followed by the presentation of the Golden West assembly, Order of Rainbow Girls. Committee is Mrs. Lucie Beyer, Mrs. Marie Fischer, Mrs. Evelyn Penzel, and Mrs. Doris Smith.

The month's calendar includes two sewing club meetings, Thursday, August 10, 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Rose Friedrichs, 136 Lunado way, San Francisco; Thursday, August 24, 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Doris Franke, 45 Greenwood avenue, San Francisco.

Smith, with 13 columns of listings, continues to be the name with largest representation in the directory, and is followed by Johnson with 10 columns, and Anderson with seven columns. Other leaders are Miller, Williams, Jones, Sullivan and Wilson.

Subscribers were reminded to remove valuable papers and notations from the old books before turning them in. In the last directory round-up, letters, War Bonds, and paper money, were lost by persons who forgot having tucked them away in the books. The directories are not examined after collection but are consigned to immediate salvage.

NO FAT BOY

Scout Troop No. 141 hasn't found that fat boy to take one of the leading roles in their forthcoming movie but they did find two baby raccoons. While on a tracking expedition, the boys came upon the wild infants, whose mother had been killed. They promptly adopted them and are raising them on a bottle.

The boys need a fat boy for their film and even the help of the San Francisco council hasn't produced one. (Aren't there ANY fat Boy Scouts?) The council ran an appeal in its weekly bulletin for the type of character the local troop seeks. So far, no answers!

Cub Den No. 3, Pack No. 141, meets on Monday afternoons now, 4 o'clock, at 178 North Parkview avenue. Den Mother is Mrs. Frank Morgan.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

If awards were given to the most dangerous fictional woman of the year, Ben Ames Williams would surely win the prize for his creation of Ellen, in his novel, "Leave Her to Heaven."

BEN AMES WILLIAMS

Ellen is a gal whom all wise men would do well to avoid, but they don't do it. She's pretty and witty and charming—when she wants to be. But when she loves anyone, she must own them, and her jealousy knows no bounds.

She resents it when her novelist husband spends time at his writing desk, as a result of which there are no more novels. But that's not the half of it. Her fury rises to a high peak at his tender affection for his crippled younger brother Danny, and she doesn't rest until she has talked the lad into taking a swim across the lake, too much for his feeble strength. Her jealousy turns toward her foster-sister Ruth next, and the vengeance she plans for her is diabolical beyond belief. Read it for yourself if you would know more.

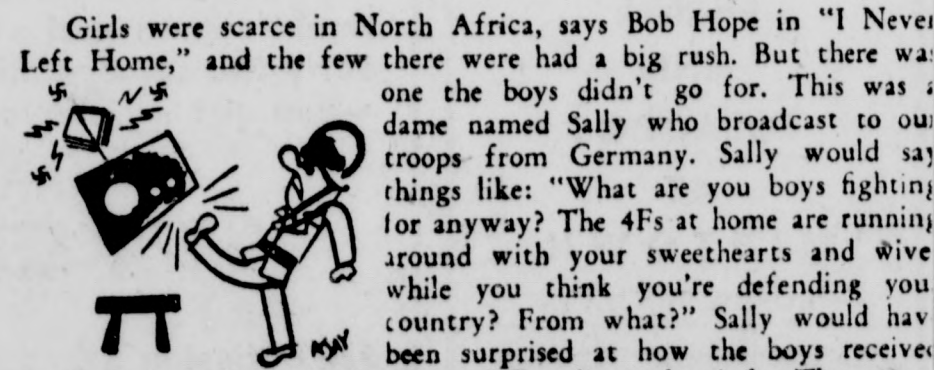

"Leave Her to Heaven" is pretty sure to be a popular novel, and has already been bought by the motion pictures.

In his book, "Heaven Below" E. H. Clayton, an American missionary, describes some of the methods used by the Chinese underground in occupied Hangchow. Once he happened to see a Chinese engaged in the job of pasting up Japanese propaganda posters. "Aren't you very ashamed of yourself?" asked the American. "No," the Chinese replied. "You see, I put the posters up in the afternoon and get paid for them. I earn my living that way. Then I tear them all down at night. That's my real job."

"Basic History of the United States" by Charles and Mary Beard has been set aside by the Book-of-the-Month Club as a future book-dividend for subscribers.

Girls were scarce in North Africa, says Bob Hope in "I Never Left Home," and the few there were had a big rush. But there was one the boys didn't go for. This was a dame named Sally who broadcast to our troops from Germany. Sally would say things like: "What are you boys fighting for anyway? The 4Fs at home are running around with your sweethearts and wives while you think you're defending your country? From what?" Sally would have been surprised at how the boys received her little pep talks, says Mr. Hope. "They listened quietly. Then some one would get up to walk out and spit on the radio as he went by."

The five July birthday members were crowned "Queens of Summer" and received gifts when the birthday box was opened. Ice cream and cake provided a popular climax for the afternoon.

OPA Eliminates Advertising Order

Local War Price and Rationing Boards have been advised it is not necessary for persons who lose war ration books to advertise for their recovery before replacement books are issued, the Office of Price Administration said today.

In some sections, local board in their discretion adopted the policy of requesting persons who lost their war ration books to advertise the loss before a replacement was issued. This was done in an effort to recover the original book and to permit the applicant to show evidence his application was made in good faith.

Experience has shown relatively few books were recovered as a result of this procedure, particularly after provision was made for persons who find them to return them by mail. Each book bears the name and address of the person to whom it was issued. Arrangements have been made for postal delivery of the book the same as other mail.

OPA INCREASES RATION VALUE OF BUTTER TO 16 POINTS

The ration value of creamery butter was increased to 16 red points a pound from 12 points, effective at 12:01 a. m., eastern war time, Sunday, July 23, the OPA has announced.

The point value was increased, OPA said, because more creamery butter is being bought with red stamps at the present time than has been allocated to civilians by the War Food Administration.

Preliminary reports from the trade indicate civilian consumption is running as much as 20 per cent over the July allocation of 100,000,000 pounds.

The purpose of the higher point value is to:

1. To bring consumer buying power in line with actual supplies available to civilians.
2. By slowing down civilian consumption, to assist the armed services in obtaining their required supplies of butter for military

To a Boilermaker about a better job

Maybe you have a wife and youngsters. Maybe you're new out here in the West. And maybe you figure you'd like to connect with a big and permanent company. You know best. Anyway, we'll tell you about the job. It's with Southern Pacific in our big railroad Shops or Roundhouses. General boiler-making on railroad equipment... locomotives, rolling stock, etc. Working with "good stuff" on interesting jobs. Keeping the railroad on the tracks, you might say... keeping the war trains rolling. A good gang to work with—men you'll like. Men who've found there's something just a bit different about railroading—more exciting, more interesting. New, higher railroad pay. Liberal age limits. Railroad pass privileges. Fine pension plan. Medical services. All of which adds up to a better than usual job with a good outfit. We think you'll like it. How about coming in and seeing us?

It was necessary to increase the point values of creamery butter at mid-month, OPA said, because continued purchases by civilians of butter in excess of the allocation would have seriously reduced the supplies in retailers' and wholesalers' hands needed to assure equitable distribution.

According to information prepared by the War Food Administrator, creamery butter production for the first seven months of 1944 is expected to total 988,700,000, compared with 1,104,100,000 in the like seven months of 1943, a decrease of 10.5 per cent. This decrease in production has been due largely to dry weather and labor shortages in many dairy areas.

OPA said that trade quarters had been consulted before today's action was taken, and the higher points are being posted with the full approval of both OPA and WFA industry advisory committees on butter, and of the American Butter Institute, a trade organization representing a large segment of the industry's manufacturers, assemblers and distributors.

The new 16 red points per pound ration value for creamery butter replaces a 12 red points per pound value which had been in effect since April 30, 1944.

The proudest title in the Army

It CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:

"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

"Good Soldier"

Corporal Harlan Ferrando, well-known graduate and football player of Jefferson Union high school, is now at Veterans hospital, Livermore, California. Lee is a graduate of Jefferson Union high school.

DALY CITY COUNCILMEN MEET

In the absence of City Clerk B. C. Ross, who is on a 2-weeks vacation, Councilman Eugene V. Lynch took the minutes of the Monday night, July 24, meeting of the Daly City Council. The session was unprecedentedly brief and no matters of major importance were acted upon or discussed.

Mayor A. J. Gaggero called for the reading of the minutes of the July 10 meeting at 8:20 p. m. and the session was adjourned by 8:50 p. m. There were only half a dozen spectators, marked contrast to the crowded chambers which characterized the first several meetings following the city election.

Under communications the reports of the department of health and poundmaster were read and filed. Two applications for city positions were made. One was by John Craig for appointment to the Daly City Water department; the other was for the police department by Wilmot Waterman. Both are Daly City residents.

A letter from the American Building Maintenance was referred to the city attorney, F. E. Hoffmann for recommendation. It advised the city council that monthly rates for their services might be raised if a proposed increase for employees was successfully negotiated by the union. A communication from Kirkbride and Wilson dealing with the south end street improvement work done by Hanrahan-Connolly under Resolution of Intention No. 693 was filed.

Upon the recommendation of City Attorney Hoffmann the condemnation proceedings against the Fish properties on Los Olivos avenue were held up for the time being as the attorney for the owner, R. A. Rapsey, had notified Hoffmann that repairs and improvements would be made shortly to bring the buildings up to standard.

City Engineer R. A. Klassen reported that the Railroad Commission had extended its permit for the city to put through the grade crossing of Hillcrest drive for another year.

There were no resolutions and no ordinances.

Under new business, Councilman Howard A. McHugh made a motion that James Welsh and Edward Beecher be temporarily appointed to positions on the Daly City Police department. It was unanimously adopted.

In addition to members of the city's official family present for the meeting and mentioned above, Councilmen Bert L. Meritt and Edward J. Dennis, Acting Police Chief William P. Bolger, and Water Department Superintendent Arthur J. Bodien were present.

Light Session At Court, Friday

Captivating Variety Show Opens July 31

As captivating a variety of characters ever born in the mind of a playwright will be seen on the stage of the Geary theatre beginning Monday, July 31, in "Good Night Ladies," the smash comedy success which ran for 100 weeks to complete sellouts in Chicago.

Producers Howard Lang and Al Rosen describe "Good Night Ladies" as a hilarious, mad and daring play based on a gentleman's phobia of scantily clad females.

A large cast of stage and screen players including John Hubbard, Wynne Gibson, Russ Brown, Claire Carleton and Kay Linaker will play the principal roles. In the prominent supporting roles will be Claire Meade, Fred Sherman, Martha Morton, Mary Ellen Popel, Gloria Humphreys, Mary Dawley, Barbara Barnes and several others who are expected to set new box office records in comedy hits for the San Francisco Geary theatre.

Chicago critics and national magazines were unanimous in their praise for "Good Night Ladies."

Some of the glowing press notices were:

"I sat all evening howling with laughter along with the rest of the audience."—Cecil Smith, Chicago Tribune.

"More lovely ladies than I can hope to catalogue..."—Ashton Stevens, Chicago Herald-American.

"It's what Chicago likes."—Time Magazine.

"The Critics went crazy about it."—Life Magazine.

"Outselling everything in Chicago."—Newsweek.

Mail orders are now being accepted for the first two weeks of the limited run. Out-of-town theatergoers are urged to use mail orders as much as possible in order to avoid disappointment of sellouts. Performances will be presented nightly including Sundays, with Saturday and Sunday matinees.

At League Meeting

The entire city council, Mayor A. J. Gaggero, Councilmen B. L. Meritt, Eugene V. Lynch, Howard A. McHugh, Edward J. Dennis, and Water Works Superintendent Arthur J. Bodien attended a meeting of the Peninsula division, League of California Cities, at the St. Claire hotel, San Jose, Thursday evening, July 20.

In addition to what the Daly City delegation described as "a splendid talk" by Richard Graves, the league's executive secretary, they heard a high ranking military official discuss the Port Chicago disaster with particular emphasis on the mutual aid given by surrounding communities.

Graves' talk dealt with post-war activities. In pointing out that California is now the third largest state in the nation, he warned that its problems of employment and readjustment in the period following the war will be particularly grave. He admonished each community to be prepared to assume its necessary role in re-conversion.

County Planning Commission Meets

As a preliminary step toward launching a program of post-war projects for this county, a meeting of the San Mateo County Planning Commission was held at the Benjamin Franklin hotel, Friday, July 21. Arthur J. Bodien, member of the commission from Daly City, attended.

He reports that among the many projects planned for the post-war era are the revamping of the court house at Redwood City, the construction of a recreation center and yacht harbor at Coyote Point, a county garage, extension and widening of county roads, a series of war memorial buildings throughout the county (Daly City is slated to get one), possible construction of two more airfields to be privately operated, the encouragement of all types of manufacturing and processing plants.

Among those present at the session were Fred Beer, chairman of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors; Fred Peterson, county executive; Charles Buck, chairman of the county planning commission; Carl H. Bessett, commission member; Daniel Sullivan, assistant district attorney; M. A. Grant, county engineer; Bodien, and a number of the county's architects.

The commission is urging all communities in the county to get their post-war projects actually blue-printed as both state and federal governments will probably share in the expense of carrying them out.

Fred Jones, 80 Brentwood street, San Francisco, reported to local police at 12:50 a. m., July 21, that his green Ford sedan had been stolen from in front of Wit's End. The Daly City department broadcast the theft and the following day the San Francisco Police recovered the stolen vehicle.

Officers Ricco Benedetti and Sundermann took Tom Hogan, 30 Niantic avenue, to Alemany Emergency hospital, July 23, when he was hurt in a fight in front of a restaurant at the top of the hill. He was treated for cuts on both lips and a possible broken nose.

Officers Benedetti and Sundermann investigated an accident, July 23, at 12:05 p. m. when a Harley Davidson motorcycle slid on the wet bricks on Hillcrest drive as it was turning left into Santa Barbara avenue. Thrown to the ground were Meryle Baptiste, 1682 Great Highway, San Francisco, and Helen Menn, 1200 Forty-seventh avenue, San Francisco. They were taken to Alemany Emergency hospital by a passing motorist.

While on patrol, July 24, 10:45 a. m., Officer Benassini found a 1931 Ford sedan parked on the road leading to the dog pound. Investigation revealed that it had been reported as stolen by the San Francisco Police. Local officers had it towed to Sweeney's garage and when the rightful owner, Marino Modesti, 840 London street, San Francisco, appeared he was given a release for his car.

At 12:20 p. m., July 24, Officer Benassini answered a call for help from the mother of Michael McGovern, 2 1-2 years old, 63 Cavour street, who had caught his arm in a clothes wringer. The officer rushed him to Alemany Emergency hospital where he was treated for a badly lacerated left arm and a fracture of the left wrist.

Officers Benedetti and Sundermann investigated when a Dodge sedan belonging to Mrs. Wilma Pulley, 98 San Joaquin avenue, ran away from where it had been

Build Breakfasts From The "Basic 7"

Breakfast is at seven.

Breakfast is at ten.

Breakfast is at three o'clock.

Breakfast is when — over the working man or woman's day begins and nowadays that may be at any hour.

Breakfasting time has changed but the health rule of breaking your fast with an adequate and balanced meal has not changed. If anything, it is more important than ever.

Don't Gulp and Run

Do you eat breakfast at home? or do you order your breakfast from a restaurant or fountain menu? In either case, the coffee-and-toast-doughnut-or-bun meal, eaten "gulp and run," is O-U-T.

It is important to your health and production power, says Uncle Sam, to begin the day with a breakfast that provides a variety of balanced foods, together with a fourth to a third of the day's food energy. Your slices of toast — good so far as it goes — should be supplemented by other foods to make a number one breakfast.

Know Your "Basic 7"

You are hearing much about the "basic 7" foods — the seven groups of foods we are asked to eat every day to protect health. This chart is the simplest measuring-stick for good nutrition that we have. To secure it, write to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C. and ask for leaflet, "National Wartime Nutrition Guide."

First step in your better breakfast campaign, is to study the food lists on this chart and plan your breakfast to include some of them. Pictured here is a breakfast, which offers foods from six of the "basic 7" groups:

Orange juice	Group 2
Bananas	Group 3
Milk	Group 4
Egg	Group 5
Cereal and whole wheat toast	Group 6
Butter or fortified margarine	Group 7

Mrs. Zanetti, from the parlor and admiring friends.

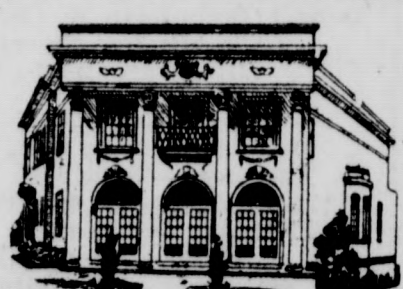

A short program of vocal solos by Mrs. Josephine Hunter, tap dancing by Miss Margaretha Schade and community singing was followed by the serving of refreshments in the banquet room.

Among the many visitors for the installation was the fiancée of Miss Adele Wood, new president. He had just returned from two years service in Alaska with the U. S. Army.

Shopper's Notes For Month Of Aug.

Add to shopper's notes for August: several summer favorites in canned meats will be selling for about ten per cent less than at present. Canned and whole ham — smoked and unsmoked — as well as spiced luncheon meat, spiced and pressed ham and pressed pork are among the canned meats coming down in price. The reductions will result when new ceiling prices go into effect, August 4.

Mrs. America should be able to see more of the canned foods she buys. The War Production Board has authorized unlimited use of glass containers for the packing of most foods, drugs and health supplies. And the WPB says that sufficient metal tops will be available for the increased quantity of jars and bottles.

And here's another note on the packaging situation, but it is not so encouraging. The manufacture of paper milk containers has been placed under regulation limiting the dealer's inventory. As a matter of fact, the production of other food containers made of paper also is under reserve production control. The War Production Board further reports that the present critical paper shortage shows no sign of abating.

Don't forget that your butcher still is authorized to pay you two red points and 4c for each pound of waste kitchen fat turned in. It's a profitable deal either way you look at it. Mrs. America can certainly use those two red points to spread her ration budget, and Uncle Sam can use the salvage fats in the manufacture of explosives, drugs and other war materials.

Here's information for folks living in a defense rental area. Nothing in the new price control bill permits the landlord to charge any more than he has been charging without an order from the area rent director. Any rent increases not made by the OPA rent office are illegal. If rent is raised without an official order, tenants are advised not to pay the additional charge before getting in touch with the rent office.

It's a wise housewife who checks with the price panel of her war price and rationing board before buying or selling a used refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, washing machine or metal coil bed springs. These used articles are under price ceilings whether sold by the individual household or a dealer.

There were two cases of chicken pox in Colma for the week ending July 15, according to the health division bulletin of the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare for that period. No communicable diseases were reported for Daly City.

Of communicable diseases reported since January, 1944, chicken pox has far outranked all others in number of cases. Second place goes to measles and third to mumps.

THE LIFE OF YOUR TIRES

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

S F MAYOR ASKS AID

Mayor Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco today asked the aid of Mayor A. J. Gaggero of Daly City and Mayor Fred Lane of Colma in acquainting local motorists with San Francisco's hill parking ordinance requiring motorists to cramp the wheels of their cars against the curb when parking on hills.

The San Francisco mayor took this step after receiving letters from residents of Northern and Central California communities, questioning the fairness of enforce-ing the ordinance against out-of-town motorists unaware of the existence of the statute.

"I have replied," wrote Mayor Lapham, "that while our police obviously must continue to 'tag' both local and out-of-town motorists, I thought there was something in what they said about not knowing of its existence and that we would undertake to make the ordinance more generally known,
and the reasons for it."

"For the benefit of the citizens of your city who may have cause to drive their automobiles to San Francisco, would you, therefore, be so good as to bring up in your council meeting or otherwise call to the attention of your community, the fact that a San Francisco ordinance provides:

"It shall be unlawful for an operator to stand or park any vehicle upon any perceptible grade without effectively setting the brakes thereon and blocking the wheels of said vehicle by turning them against the curb or by other means."

Mayor Lapham pointed out that since January 1, 1943 there have been 495 runaway cars in San Francisco, causing death to one person, injury to 17, including several children, and property damage in practically all cases. He concluded:

"I feel that a knowledge of these facts will result in a better understanding among motorists of our neighboring communities of the imperative need for this regulation, and that they will cooperate, as good neighbors, in observing it for the protection of life and property which can ill be spared in these times."

Daly City has the same sort of ordinance in regard to parking on hills.

UNITED STATES COAST GUARD TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY AUG. 4

As the great Allied offensive surges ever closer to that day of Axis doom, the part played by the United States Coast Guard is unfolding as one of the epics of World War II.

August 4, the nation will salute this oldest seagoing service, when it commemorates its 154th birthday.

Men of this service, who in peace time quietly carry on the task of protecting life and property along more than 100,000 miles of seacoast and waterway, have earned the Navy's terse, resounding commendation, "Well Done," for their accomplishments on every invasion front from Normandy to Saipan.

Yet to many Americans, the Coast Guard still means only bleak lighthouses, small white surf boats that go out in summer squalls to rescue capsized sailboats, and maritime policemen during yachting regattas.

Since that sneak Jap attack at Pearl Harbor, however, the men who wear the Coast Guard shield on their right forearm have blazoned their seabags with such names as Fedala, Normandy, Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Kwajalein, Murmansk, Saipan and Singapore.

The Coast Guard today—with its invasion operations, its convoy duties in slim gray ships of war, its manning of troop transports and cargo ships and its equally vital Port Security duties—is a far cry indeed from that tiny fleet of small cutters authorized back in 1790 to insure the collection of customs.

"I have just returned from France after hitch-hiking on eight ships, mostly Coast Guard," wrote one war correspondent, "Coast Guard craft seemed to be all over the channel, snaking survivors out of the water, rushing wounded to first aid and landing infantry and vehicles on the beach."

It was at Guadalcanal that Coast Guardsman Douglas Munro won the Congressional Medal of Honor and died a hero's death in leading a rescue mission which evacuated hundreds of trapped Marines. His final four words, "Did they get off?" gasped as he died, will live forever in the lustrous Coast Guard history.

In the North Atlantic, the cutter CAMPBELL successfully

The massive bow doors of this Coast Guard-manned LST (Landing Ship, Tank) swing open on a Jap-held beach in the Pacific, and out pour troops, ready for battle. Landing Army and Marine forces from LSTs and other amphibious craft on every invasion front, from Normandy to the Marianas, is one of the many war-time assignments of the Coast Guard, which observes its 154th birthday on August 4. The nation's oldest commissioned service, founded back in 1790, is living up to its motto, "Semper Paratus—Always Ready."

fought off the attack of a Nazi wolfpack in a thrilling running battle, sinking one Nazi sub and depth-charging five others.

And on Long Island, Coast Guardsman John Cullen, trudging his beat on lonely beach patrol, encountered German saboteurs who had landed from a submarine. His alertness and courage led to their capture.

Coast Guardsmen are still carrying on their traditional tasks of tending lighthouses on rocky capes, rescuing men from foundering vessels and enforcing navigation laws. But today their "Coast" includes the coastline of all five continents.

Wherever American Marines and doughboys have landed on enemy beaches, Coast Guardsmen were there to put all of their fighting surfman's skill into difficult landing operations, dodging shells and torpedoes, getting vital supplies ashore in driving tropical rains and heavy seas.

The late Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox paid homage to these men after bloody Tarawa...

"And the lads that handled those boats go in again and again and again—go in the first wave and the second, and they're under fire constantly... And a good many are Coast Guardsmen... they show the same quality of heroism in their work that the Marines show. They have fulfilled their mission with the same sort of valor."

With the Coast Guard fighting around the world, even the present strength of more than 170,000 is hardly sufficient to meet the demands. To help the situation came the organization of the Women's Reserve—the SPARS—who are replacing many Coast Guardsmen at shore stations throughout the country. More than 8,000 are now on duty. Eventually they will number 12,000.

Also to help in these home front duties and to give more Coast

Guardsmen an opportunity to join their shipmates in overseas combat operations, thousands of civilian men and women have donned Coast Guard uniforms, devoting 12 hours per week to a patriotic volunteer service that will aid in insuring the uninterrupted flow of reinforcements and materiel to the fighting forces.

The Coast Guard, which automatically transfers from the Treasury to the Navy department in war time, is living up to its proud motto, "Semper Paratus—Always Ready."
